From 2008 to 2010, driven by improving overseas demand, the capacity of Chinese dicamba technical witnesses an increasing trend, with a CAGR of [REDACTED], but it reduces to [REDACTED] in 2011 from [REDACTED] in 2010 owing to the shut down of a major production line of dicamba technical in China, which belongs to Jiangsu Shenghua Pesticide Co., Ltd. In detail, due to strict environmental protection supervision, the company's [REDACTED] dicamba technical production line is shut down by the local government of Jiangsu.

Although China's capacity of dicamba technical declines in 2011, the output of the product still increases, up [REDACTED] year on year. The reason for this is that a major producer concentrated on dicamba technical supply, namely Youth Chemical Co., Ltd. saw output rise last year. Specifically, due to soaring dicamba technical orders from South America, the company's dicamba technical output is [REDACTED] tonnes in 2011, up [REDACTED] over a year earlier.
